Government, this publication is geared toward academicians,
practitioners,
and government officials seeking current and relevant research on the use of online
and technological systems for the advancement of government and public policy.

This book brings out current research and practice

concepts, articulating the research agenda
for e-

Government. When
e-Government was

Acces PDF

Electronic

Government conceived, it was designed upon basic technologies where the emphasis was only on the simple display of government information for citizens to read. Nowadays,
e-Government
design comprises

many complicated modules such as

download

consoles, two-way interaction

citizens and

government
agents, presenting the whole of government, and it does not depend solely on technology. The complexity of e-Government has now evolved to include political, cultural, economic, social and technical

Acces PDF

Electronic

dimensions.

Bringing all these difficult aspects together is so complicated that it needs carefully planned August

strategies

informed by local contextual characteristics.

Rather than

Acces PDF

Electronic

giving formulaic definitions and conceptual standpoints on many aspects of e-Government, as is the case in many e-

Government publications, this book will explore the frontiers of global knowledge

Acces PDF

Electronic

value chains by discussing current and future

dimensions of e-Government. For example, the book discusses the concept of
data governance
by exploring how actual opening
up of government data can be

Acces PDF

Electronic

achieved, especially in a developing world
context.

Further, the book posits that opening government data should be followed by the opening up of
business processes in

Acces PDF

Electronic

Government peddle
accountability
and

responsiveness.

Much text on
has concentrated on articulating the basic definitions surrounding this concept. Another very important

Acces PDF

Electronic

topic explored in this book is regarding how
decolonisation
can be extended to e-Government by providing practical examples as to how researchers in the
can contribute

Acces PDF

Electronic

to the Government

advancement of e-Government as a scientific field of enquiry and guide its implementation,

thereof.

Decolonisation
is advocated for
in e-Government
research so that there is a balance in the

Acces PDF

Electronic

inclusion of the Afrocentric
knowledge into e-
Government

advancement

other than over-reliance on the Euro-, Asia- and

America-centric knowledge value chains (Mbembe

2015). As e-Government is a very expensive

undertaking, the issue of funding has excluded African

Countries and a majority of the
from

implementing e-
Government.

Despite funding
being a critical cornerstone of e-
Government

Acces PDF

Electronic

development,

there is a dearth of information on this topic.

Therefore, this book provides a chapter which discusses traditional and innovative ways of funding e-

Government

design and

Acces PDF

Electronic

Government

which can go a long way in improving e-

Government

penetration into the developing world. Further,

the book August

explores how intelligent e-

Government

applications can be designed,

Acces PDF

Electronic

especiallly in re source-
constrained countries. A couple of emerging technology innovations such as fog computing and intelligent information technology are explored within the realm of e-

2015, held in

Delft, The Netherlands, in October 2015.

The 40 revised full papers presented together with 1 keynote panel were carefully reviewed and selected from 65 submissions.

They are organized in the following

topical

sections:

adoption; big

and open data; e-

business, e-

services, , and e-

society; and

witness August

workshop.

With the rapid increase in the implementation

Acces PDF

Electronic

of e-Government

in Africa and across the world, the need to investigate

the key

bottlenecks

(issues) caused by the failure of a large number of e-

Government

projects cannot be ignored. The

Acces PDF

Electronic

main purpose of this book is to contribute to the current scholarly and intellectual discourse on different
aspects of e-Government such as understanding the critical issues in design,

Acces PDF

Electronic

Implementation
and monitoring.
This book
specifically intends to bring out contextual issues that hugely impact on the probability
for e-Government
failure or success. It also differentiates itself by

Acces PDF

Electronic

carefully

exploring the issue of context-
awareness

(informed by the local context)
design and

implementation,
which has not been pursued in any publication
before, although

Acces PDF

Electronic

it has been used in other
information
computational contexts.

Therefore, the many theses
within this book
are concerned with e-

Government
design

approaches,
implementation

Acces PDF

Electronic

Government and
requirements,
dimensions need to be informed by the contextual characteristics in which they are implemented.

This book
contributes to the body of knowledge by

Acces PDF

Electronic

presenting an in-depth analysis
of a case of e-
Government

implementation.

Therefore, this book has its facts backed by intermittent reference to an empirical study done in Zambia
to accentuate
issues in

Acces PDF

Electronic

Government

design, adoption, usage
and monitoring

projects. The case articulates

the methodological issues in the

measurement of e-

Government. The

use of a combination of

Acces PDF

Electronic

structural equation
modelling (SEM),
exploratory
factor analysis (EFA) and advanced techniques such as principal component
analysis (PCA)
in investigating
different

Acces PDF

Electronic

Government in a developing country context
has not been done in any previous research. The novel
nuances articulated in this book can go a long way

Governments

how—after decades of investment in breaks out of

through in-depth
